The prestigious FinTech global ranking of hardware, software and service providers to the financial services industry are compiled and published in a joint effort by American Banker, Bank Technology News and IDC Financial Insights. With this high ranking, Genpact has joined an elite group of vendors around the world that derive at least 33 percent of reported revenue from services they provide exclusively to the financial sector.

"It's an honor to be included among the top services providers to the financial services industry, and we are especially proud to debut at such a high ranking," said Mohit Thukral, senior vice president and business leader, Banking, Financial Services, Insurance and Healthcare, Genpact. "Genpact continues to expand and deepen the comprehensive service offerings that we provide to many of the world's leading banks, investment firms, and insurance companies by our unique combination of smarter processes, analytics and technology."

"Our financial services domain expertise, including the technology-led services and consulting practice for capital markets built over many years, has enabled our clients to make smarter decisions and achieve substantial business outcomes in this volatile business environment," said Sandeep Sahai, senior vice president, IT Solutions and Capital Markets, Genpact. "Our approach to making technology more intelligent by embedding it with processes, data insights and analytics has especially helped our clients address regulatory changes and remain on a path to growth."

For banking and financial services, Genpact provides business process management and technology services offerings for investment banking, commercial leasing and lending, wealth management, mortgage services, and retail banking.
